5. Reconciliation of Book and Taxable Income

The reconciliation of book income to taxable income for FY 2023-2024 highlights the differences between financial accounting standards (GAAP) and tax accounting rules. Key reconciling items include timing differences in revenue recognition, depreciation methods, and the treatment of R&D expenses.

For instance, Tesla Inc. uses accelerated depreciation for tax purposes, resulting in higher deductions compared to the straight-line method used for financial reporting. Additionally, certain R&D expenses are capitalized under GAAP but deducted immediately for tax purposes, creating temporary differences.

Reconciliation Item	Amount (USD)
Net Income (GAAP)	12,500,000,000
Add: Depreciation (GAAP)	3,200,000,000
Less: Depreciation (Tax)	4,500,000,000
Add: R&D Expenses (Capitalized under GAAP)	1,200,000,000
Less: R&D Expenses (Deducted for Tax)	3,500,000,000
Add: Meals and Entertainment (Non-Deductible)	150,000,000
Less: Tax Credits	1,200,000,000
Taxable Income	9,800,000,000

6. Compliance and Declarations

Tesla Inc. affirms that the income tax returns for FY 2021-2022, 2022-2023, and 2023-2024 have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable state tax laws.
